Domestic Industry.

We publish in another column for the benefit of our readers a statement in the shape of seven propositions put forth at a public meeting of persons friendly to the protection of our domestic industry held in Philadelphia on April 29th of the present year.

Our readers well know our views in regard to the necessity of affording adequate protection to all those industries which we have the means of prosecuting, yet in doing which we are thrown into competition with the cheap labor of Europe.

Some persons friendly to protection persuade themselves that the policy of the country relative thereto is settled, and the discussion of the question, at this day, is equivalent to riding a dead horse.

We differ from such, and doubt not that the revision of the tariff laws now in contemplation by Congress will develop the fact that the friends of free trade and Great Britain are as active as ever.

The action of the committee was timely and wise, and their statements irrefutable.

The proclamation of President Grant the eight hour law passed by Congress, having reference to workmen to the employ of the Government, has been properly interpreted to mean that the allotted measure of time is a full day's work, and consequently no reduction in pay can follow.

The first through ticket to Sacramento was sold on Friday by the Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Lafayette Railroad. Fare, $121.30.

The Pleasures of the Opposition.

Whatever may be our lot or condition in life, it is not without its sorrows as well as its joys, its advantages as well as its disadvantages. So also is it with parties, as may be seen in the tortuous course of the Democratic organization.

Domestic Industry.

At a public meeting of the friends of domestic industry, held in Philadelphia, April 29, 1869, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, the Congressional Committee of Ways and Means is instructed to consider the propriety of revising the Tariff laws, and to recommend to Congress at its next Session such legislation upon that subject as may seem to be expedient; therefore, Resolved, that the following statement be presented to the said Committee as embodying the views of the productive industries of this country:

FIRST, That the development of our own resources and the firm possession of our own markets are much more important than foreign commerce to the welfare of all the people of this nation, to the solvency of the government, and to the attraction of the better class of immigrants; and that by no other method can a durable resumption of specie payments be attained than by increasing American production and checking importation.

SECONDLY, That to maintain such possession of our own markets, and thus to attain financial independence, we must be able to produce at home nearly all the manufactured articles needed by our people, including those which require the facilities of great establishments, of many workmen trained to special arts, and of large capital, and we must also be constantly undertaking those new industries which the advances in the arts and the progress of civilization require.

THIRDLY, That it is impossible for such great establishments to prosper, for smaller ones to spring up, and for the new industries to take root under a feeble and sometimes untried policy which holds them constantly in fear of reversions.

FOURTHLY, That as a means of promoting regular growth in the productive powers of our country, it is the duty of the government to announce, adhere to, and steadfastly act upon the policy of defending its citizens in their industrial conflict with foreign nations, of assuring to those who are supporting the government a marked preference in our markets over aliens who are our rivals in peace and our foes in war, and of obliging foreigners who wish to reap the advantage of the better markets created by our institutions to pay toll upon the goods they send here, and thus share the expense of maintaining those institutions.

FIFTHLY, That a policy of firm and steady protection to American industry being distinctly announced, a general tariff law should be framed embracing the entire range of imported goods and super-adding all former tariff laws, the duties being made specific so far as conveniently possible and high enough to afford fair wages and reasonable profits to such American working-men and employers as apply themselves with assiduity, skill, and intelligence to industries suited to our condition and resources.

labor of Congress, and to expedite those future modifications in tariff legislation which the development of new industries or the changes of trade may from time to time render desirable, some department, bureau, or commission, should be created, specifically charged with the duty of keeping watch over this subject, with authority to examine witnesses, make investigations, hear statements, and to submit to Congress at the opening of each session a brief report, accompanied, when necessary, by a draft of a bill embodying such legislation as may seem expedient.

SEVENTHLY, Experience having clearly shown that the maintenance of domestic production is the only sure method for reducing the prices of manufactured goods, it is grossly unjust to the employers of operatives who ask for the legislation needful for keeping their hands employed, to charge them with endeavoring to aggrandize themselves at the expense of the public. They do not desire or expect for themselves or their employes to escape from the toil and strife which are the common lot of man, but they protest against being obliged to follow the employers of other countries in experimenting on the degree of degradation and misery which can be endured by a laboring population, and they claim that our national legislation should be such as to enable our producing classes to enjoy civilizing influences, and to permit citizens to acquire solidly enough to give steadiness to manufacturing pursuits.

RESOLVED, That a committee consisting of Messrs. Joseph Wharton, Henry O. Lea, William Sellers, and Morton McMichael, be appointed to present the foregoing statement to the Committee of Ways and Means, with power to confer with that Committee, and to take such action in the premises as may conduce to the common welfare.

CYRUS ELDER, Secretary.

After the first day of June it will be unlawful for any person to commence or continue the practice of medicine or surgery in several of the counties in this State, who has not graduated with a degree of Doctor of Medicine, and received a diploma from a chartered or medical college, or other institution authorized to grant diplomas.

The Alleghenian says one lumberman stabbed another in Clearfield the other day. The account we read of it was to the effect that he stabbed him in the groin.—Standard.

We read another account, to the effect that he stabbed him in the swill-trough.

READ THIS.—A place to buy good cheap Tea and Coffee. The Empire Tea and Coffee Co., of New York, have appointed V. S. Barker, of this place, their agent for the sale of their choice Teas and Coffees. Below will be found the prices of Teas. Any person on looking it over can see for themselves that they can save from 25 to 50 per cent by purchasing from him: Best Black, per lb. $1.30; Y. Hyson, 1.40; Japan, 1.35; Eng. Breakfast, 1.35; Imperial 1.60; Gun Powder 1.60; Eng. Breakfast Coffee 30 cents per pound; Java 35.

GOODS AT COST.—R. R. Davis designs removing his mercantile establishment from its present location, near the "Diamond," to the rooms in the East Ward formerly occupied by Hughes & Co. He does not expect the trouble of "moving" his stock now on hand, and so, to the end of avoiding that trouble, he will, for six weeks, sell goods for cost. Give him a call and secure bargains.

EVERYTHING.—Hardware, tinware, sheet-iron ware, copper-ware, stores, and anything and everything in that line, for sale at George Huntley's. Also, coffee, sugar, cigars, notions, &c., &c. He has a bigger store-room, and better fitted, than any similar establishment in Cambria county.

HOT WEATHER.—Summer will soon be here, and our readers will need summer clothing. When in Johnstown, visit Leopold & Bro's store. They can sell summer cloth, &c., say nothing about summer hats, caps, &c., cheaper than can be bought in Philadelphia.

MAYOR, MAYOR.—Johnstown is not a city, and so has not a Mayor. But it has what is better—it has a Nayer. This Nayer sells dry and dress goods cheaper than can be bought elsewhere in that town. Try him when you have an opportunity, and be convinced.

NOTIONS.—M. L. Outman has just received a very large and very varied stock of notions. Go and see them. Go and see them to-day. Go and see them, and buy what you need.

$10,000 REWARD.—A reward of $10,000 is offered for the discovery of a man who will say that he knows of a store in Ebensburg where he can buy goods cheaper than at A. A. Barker & Son's. Spring stock just received.

HO! EVERY ONE.—If you own a garden, and purpose cultivating the same, go to T. W. Williams to buy your rake, spade, hoe, &c. Every road ought to maintain its man, and so every man ought to be an agriculturist.

TO THE WORKING CLASS!

I am now prepared to furnish all classes with constant employment at their homes, the whole of the time, or for the spare moments. Business new, light and profitable. Fifty cents to $5 per evening, is easily earned by persons of either sex, and the boys and girls earn nearly as much as men. Great inducements are offered those who will devote their time to the business; and that every person who sees this notice, may send me their address and text the business for free. To all who are not well satisfied with the business, I will send $1 to pay for the trouble of writing me. Full particulars, directions, &c., sent free. Sample sent by mail for 10 cents. Address E. C. Allen Augusta, Maine. [March 11-3m.]

L. LANGSTROTH'S PATENT MOVABLE COMB BEE HIVE!

Announced the best ever yet introduced in this county or State. Any person buying a family right can have their Bees transferred from an old box to a new one. In every instance in which this has been done the result has been entirely satisfactory, and the first-take of honey has invariably paid all expenses, and frequently exceeded them. Proof of the superior merits of this invention will be found in the testimony of every man who has given it a trial, and among the number are the gentlemen named below, and their experience should induce every one interested in Bees to BUY A FAMILY RIGHT!

Henry C. Kirkpatrick, of Carroll township, took 106 pounds of surplus honey from two hives, which he sold at 35 cents per pound. Adam Detrich, of Carroll township, took from two hives 160 pounds of surplus honey. James Kirkpatrick, of Chest township, took 60 pounds of surplus honey from one hive. Jacob Kirkpatrick, of Chest township, obtained 72 pounds of surplus honey from one hive, worth not less than $21, and the right cost him only $5.

Peter Campbell from one hive obtained 36 pounds of surplus honey at one time.

Quite a number of similar statements, authenticated by some of the best citizens of Cambria county, could be obtained in proof of the superior merits of Langstroth's Patent Movable Comb Bee Hive.

Persons wishing to purchase family rights should call on or address
